

Founding Editor Award Dr Mark Riley

Dr. Riley diligently and masterfully developed and executed a vision to produce a world class journal that serves the biological engineering profession. The fruit of his efforts is the Journal of Biological Engineering.

JBE provides a home for the continuum from biological information science, molecules and cells, product formation, wastes and remediation, and educational advances in curriculum content and pedagogy at the undergraduate and graduate-levels.

IBE and the entire biological engineering community is in debt to Dr. Riley's vision and service.